PROJECTS

- RevGlow Detailing: A car detailing and cleaning service website. that offers car detailing services. I built the website layout, added service pages, and made it fully responsive and user-friendly. Also, this website is an international website.
- OK Let's Print: This website is an online printing and customization service website. I created the eCommerce structure, product pages, and payment integration to support smooth online orders. It can serve both local and global clients, depending on where the company operates. This is an international-style business.
- Benevolent Therapy: This website is a therapy/mental health service info page where visitors can learn about therapy. I worked on its design, layout improvements, and optimized it for better performance and user experience. This one appears to be a Pakistani website.
